

DDS Releases New Sales Administration Software

ROSWELL, GEORGIA (December 5, 2006) Distributor Data Solutions, Inc. (“DDS”) announces the release of Data Manager 2.0, a new enterprise software solution for mid-sized suppliers that process in-market tracings and rebate claims data. It provides suppliers with a comprehensive set of tools for importing, validating, and processing data provided by distributor trading partners. Data Manager 2.0 software also helps automate and maintain GPO memberships, administration fee processing and sales commission reporting in one flexible and scalable solution.

“Our solution helps solve many of the problems suppliers face today in managing the data received from their distributors and GPOs,” says Danny Adams, President of DDS. “By offering an enterprise solution that is both scalable and affordable, mid-sized suppliers can now automate many of the manual processes found in their contracts, rebates and national accounts departments. Our solution helps suppliers manage the rebates process while complying with GPO reporting requirements.” Along with providing software solutions, DDS also offers a comprehensive processing service for smaller suppliers who manually compile sales tracings and rebate claims data from their distributor partners.
